“The FilterPure filter is manufactured from a unique blend of clays, carbon and pure silver and is fired at precise kilning temperatures to provide filtration efficiencies to retain pathogenic bacteria and waterborne oocysts. I am an agent and consultant to Fairey Industrial Ceramics, whose brand names “Doulton and British Berkefeld” are synonymous with high quality filtration for drinking water in over 144 countries. I assisted in the re-engineering of the FilterPure filter and I believe it provides the same high quality purification as gravity filter applications manufactured by these premier commercial filter companies.”
